

STEEL INDUSTRY IS BADLY CRIPPLED

Full Extent of Big Strike Not Certain Yet But Workers Are Making Big Claims

(By Associated Press)
The second day of the great struggle between labor unions and the United States Steel Corporation opened with the question as to the extent to which the industry is affected by the strike still uncertain. Confused as it is, by the conflicting claims of both sides, that the steel industry is gravely crippled in local centers of Pittsburgh, Chicago and Youngstown is certain and early reports today recorded several gains for the strikers.

In the Pittsburgh district, several plants which attempted to continue operations yesterday, shut down today. In the Chicago district, nearly all plants, including those at Hammond and Gary, are either closed or operated at greatly reduced capacity. In the Mahoning Valley of which Youngstown is the heart, reports agreed the strikers achieved their most marked success. Many large plants are closed and the strike leaders are claiming 55,000 men quit. The possibility of the strike spreading to the Bethlehem works where 35,000 men are employed, is more threatening today. Rioting which broke out at several points yesterday, was resumed today. In clashes at Farrell and New Castle, Pennsylvania, 13 persons were wounded, three of whom may die.

The situation is regarded as so menacing in the Pittsburgh district that reinforcements of State troops were sent there. At Buffalo rioting was resumed today but apparently it is not so serious as in Pennsylvania. Incipient rioting is also reported from Youngstown.

LABOR OPENS ITS FIGHT ON ANTI-STRIKE PROVISION

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Sept. 23—Organized labor launched its fight against anti-strike provision of the Cummins railroad reorganization bill today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. Glenn E. Plumb, general counsel for the railroad brotherhoods and author of the tri-partite control of railroads, said the provisions were a guarantee of "industrial revolution." He asserted they destroy the right of collective bargaining and are directed solely at the wage earners. Answering a question of Senator Pomerene, democrat, of Ohio, Plumb conceded two weeks stoppage of transportation would mean disaster and starvation for people of all cities.

DANVILLE GIRL IN A MATRIMONIAL STORM

Danville and Central Kentucky society were shocked and interested by the news that Dorothy DeLong Cook, young bride of Wm. S. Cook, prominent young Indianapolis lawyer, a member of one of the most wealthy families of the Hoosier city, is under arrest in Indianapolis. Cook met Miss DeLong while she was attending Tudor Hall, in Indianapolis, last winter and after five months' courtship they eloped and were married. Mrs. Anheir, mother of Miss DeLong, declared her daughter was only 17, instead of 18 years old, as stated in the application for a wedding certificate. The mother carried her protest to the Marion county clerk, which resulted in her husband being charged in the juvenile court, with contributing to the delinquency of Dorothy Cook by influencing her to falsify her age.

Cook caused her mother to bring his wife into court on a habeas corpus charge. Attorneys ministers and friends have attempted to settle the affair out of court, but with no avail. Mrs. Cook says, "I love my husband and I will live happily with him, although mother objects just now."

GREAT ADDRESS AT MEMORIAL MEETING

Sampey Gives Vivid Story of Life of Foch and McVey Urges Memorial To Heroes.

The meeting at the court house last night under the auspices of the American Legion, brought out a large and enthusiastic audience. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Thomas McCown, chairman of the Madison county Post. Supt. Howard Payne introduced the speakers in appropriate words. Dr. J. R. Sampey was the first speaker. Prof. Payne called attention to the appropriateness of the subject, "The Will to Conquer: How Foch Won the War," in its relation to the purpose of the meeting, namely, creation of interest in the erection of a memorial building on the campus at the State University, Lexington, in honor of Kentucky's men who died in the service of their country during the late war.

Dr. Sampey's lecture was a thrilling account of the life and achievements of Marshal Foch and he held his hearers in the grip of rapt attention from beginning to end. He traced the steps of development in the early life of Marshal Foch showing how he achieved greatness by slow progress. He saw 4 months service in the Franco-Prussian war but like many of our American soldiers in the recent war with Germany, he never had the opportunity to fight the Germans. He went through the various war schools of France, always ranking third or fourth in his classes. He devoted his life to the study of the art of war. He knew that some day France would have to fight Germany and whether as student or instructor in the great war college he bent every energy to his preparation for the great crisis which came in 1914 and closed November 11th, 1918, with Foch leading the forces of the Allied armies to victory.

Dr. Sampey brought out two prominent characteristics in the life of this great man, namely, his piety and his refusal to accept defeat.

Following Dr. Sampey's address, President Frank McVey, of State University, made a short talk on the appropriateness of a building built at the University to the memory of the Kentucky boys who gave their lives in the great struggle. He said that the names of each one will be placed on a tablet that the coming generations of young men, coming to the University, will see and know who it was who died that their liberties and freedom might be conserved. He said that too often great deeds and sacrifices are forgotten and that Kentucky ought not to begrudge the small sum of $300,000 asked of her for this noble purpose.

Dr. Sampey will lecture this evening at the First Baptist church on "The Political and Economic World in Which We Live." He speaks at Red House this afternoon at 3 o'clock. He speaks at Republican at 10:30 a. m. on Wednesday.

Calvary Tent Meeting Closes

The Calvary Baptist tent meeting closed Monday night. Considering the unexpected difficulties which hindered some, the meeting was a success. The membership of the little church was revived and drawn closer together and plans set on foot to solve the problem of financing the new church building. These two features of the meeting alone makes it a glorious success. There were also two additions to the church. Evangelist Tolle is a gospel preacher and has a winning personality. He conducted the revival in a tactful, masterful way which brought the victory in spite of the opposition of the carnival and the annoyance of the wind storms and rain. He won the esteem and affection of the people by his optimistic, kind, pleasing disposition. It is hoped that Rev. Tolle will come to Richmond again for a meeting. Mr. O. P. Jackson will conduct the prayer meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, and every member of the church is especially urged to be present as there is some important business to attend to.

Another feature of the meeting Saturday will be an address by Miss Emma Hunt, of the state illiteracy commission. Miss Hunt will speak at 1 o'clock.

Every teacher in the county is expected to be present at the meeting Sunday, according to Supt. Edwards, and a most profitable day will be spent by all, he says.

JAILER WINS FIRST ROUND OVER TAXES

Owing to the fact that the City of Richmond was not represented, Judge W. K. Price in quarterly report Monday gave judgment against the city of Richmond in favor of Jailer W. H. Burgess, for the sum of $12.62. Jailer Burgess sued the city to collect this amount owing him for the keep of city prisoners, and to test out the question of whether he, as a resident of the county, holding office, and temporarily, he says, located in Richmond, is compelled to pay city taxes. The city, at a previous councilmanic session voted to withhold the amount of taxes it claims from him, from his prisoners' bill. The above suit resulted and Jailer Burgess thus wins the first round through failure of the city to be represented legally, or otherwise, when the case was called before Judge Price.

Judge Price had lots business before him in quarterly court Monday. The jury which heard the testimony in the case of E. L. Martin against Morris Amster failed to agree, but afterward the case was settled and dismissed. It was for the sum of $17 for tobacco alleged to have been bought by Amster.

Other cases on the docket were disposed of as follows:

Star Tailoring Co., vs. G. S. Engle, dismissed.

T. M. Crutcher, Dental Depot vs. J. C. Sandlin, judgement for plaintiff for $66.12 and interest.

Logan Griffith vs. Ed Embury, dismissed.

MEMORIAL HOSPITAL FOR HEROES OF CANTIGNY

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Sept. 23—The memory of the American soldiers who fell at Cantigny, is to be perpetuated at Montdidier by the establishment of a municipal hospital constructed from American Red Cross barracks. Over the entrance to the administration building will be an inscription reading: "Gift of the American Red Cross to the town of Montdidier. In Memory of the American soldiers Who Fell at Cantigny."

Cantigny, in the valley below Montdidier, was the first American battle field in France. In the beginning of the Allied advance last summer, the Americans captured Cantigny against tremendous odds, advancing further than any other troops in taking it.

Many Americans lie buried on the hillsides about the town. The French country people are keeping the graves green, many of the families having "adopted" American graves.

In the country surrounding Montdidier, the soldier-peasant is returning to the soil. Crops are growing where in January there were hundreds of shell holes, dugouts and trenches. Nearly half of the devastated fields in the district have been reclaimed. But while this has been going on the villages have in a large measure been neglected. Social life, however, is being rapidly restored. Churches and schools are springing up everywhere and in many cases Red Cross barracks are serving for this purpose.

Despite the fact that their homes are dark cellars and dugouts, the people are cheerful and never fail to express their gratitude and appreciation for what America has done for them.

Major Receives Stringent Instructions From State Board of Health To Enforce Here

The State Board of Health is already beginning to take precautions against a recurrence of the influenza epidemic this coming winter. Mayor L. P. Evans has just received a strong letter from the board on the subject, in which particular stress is laid on the cleaning up of streets, alleys and private premises. The Mayor has therefore directed that all such be immediately cleaned up in Richmond, and other precautions taken in accordance with the instructions of the State Board of Health which are set forth to the Mayor in the letter as follows: Louisville, Kentucky Sept 18, 1919.

The Honorable Mayor and City Council, Richmond, Kentucky. Gentlemen:

This Board regrets to inform you that almost daily, official reports of cases and deaths from influenza-pneumonia, are reaching this office from widely separated sections of the State, and that similar conditions exist in other States.

In view of this disastrous experience with this disease last fall and winter in your city, with a sick and death rate, and an actual money loss from interference with business, unprecedented in the history of this State and country, and of the recognized danger of its recurrence in epidemic form in the near future, by virtue of the power vested in us by law, we hereby request you to have your streets and alleys thoroughly cleaned and oiled to prevent the evident danger in the irritation of the throats and lungs of your people by dust; and that you direct theaters, moving-picture shows and other places of public assemblage, not to permit a greater number of persons at any one time to enter such places, than can be seated comfortably, and to exclude anyone coughing or sneezing.

Given under our hands and the Seal of the Board, this eighteenth day of September, 1919.
